

6516206019.txt

XM is broadcasting to the whole United States. It provides a service that I can not obtain locally. Since they are not broadcasting content to a specific local market only how in the world can the NAB complain? I would submit that the NAB is attempting to use the FCC for their personal gain and also to try to eliminate competition. Please don't fall for this attempt to buy the government.